

Hilary Shields JP

Hilary is a confident and charismatic individual with significant experience of developing and delivering training to the NHS and the pharmaceutical industry. Over the last 17 years she has delivered innovative, ethical and practical training solutions to more than 7,000 healthcare professionals.

Historically, a commission in the Royal Air Force taught Hilary leadership, moral courage and understanding in many different and significant ways. This was followed by a successful career in the pharmaceutical industry spanning 14 years in a wide variety of roles. Hilary is ABPI qualified and refreshes this training regularly.

Hilary has designed and delivered an enigmatic range of training and development programmes and is working with Pharmacy Management on the Clinical Leadership in Practice (CLIP) programme. Some quotes from delegates are:

- “Fascinating. A great workshop - not like the usual tedious stuff. Enjoyable, positive and personally uplifting.”
- “Made me think about something I have never previously considered. Good fun and a new challenge.”
- “Your brilliant facilitation kept the pace moving along.”
