

Partnership formed between Guild of Healthcare Pharmacists (GHP) and Pharmacy Management (PM)

It has been announced that the GHP and Pharmacy Management (www.pharman.co.uk) have formalised an arrangement for a partnership.

The joint activity will cover much of the GHP objectives for communicating more closely with members and will feature bespoke webinars and coverage in the Journal of Pharmacy Management (JoPM).

Chairman of Pharmacy Management, Ted Butler, stated;

“We are entering a period of very significant change in the NHS for pharmacy, and the two organisations together will offer excellent networking of expertise and experience for the benefit of Guild members.

PM will work closely with the Guild to ensure that any other relevant activities we undertake will be made known to their members. I refer particularly here to our Conferences and Skills Programmes such as Clinical Leadership in Pharmacy (CLIP) and Pharmacy Futures (<https://www.pharman.co.uk/pm-leadership>)”

On behalf of the Guild, President Dr Roisin O'Hare said;

“The Guild of Healthcare Pharmacists are excited about the opportunities that arise from working with Pharmacy Management. As we, the GHP, approach the celebration of our centenary, we are reflecting on the organisation's long and esteemed record of representing our members. We believe that this new partnership with Pharmacy Management will support us to continue to improve how we do this.”
