

First ever HSJ Healthcare Partnership Awards shortlist revealed

8 January 2018

The finalists for the 2018 HSJ Healthcare Partnership Awards have been announced today.

Launched in 2017, these awards serve to recognise and celebrate the best partnerships with the NHS.

These service providers range from large multinationals to small start-ups, manufacturers and recruiters. HSJ has designed these awards to shine a spotlight on the projects that work for the benefit of the NHS and its patients.

Entrants demonstrated outstanding commitment to working in collaboration with the NHS through cutting edge innovation and service provision. The judges were impressed with the high standard of entries, testifying to the clear achievement of any shortlisted organisation.

HSJ editor Alastair McLellan said: “Hundreds of organisations are working behind the scenes to help the NHS improve its services and facilities, and deliver better care for patients. Yet their contribution is often unseen.

“Our aim was to change that through the HSJ Healthcare Partnership Awards, which have given businesses the chance to showcase innovative projects and long term support programmes that are really making a difference to the NHS in these challenging economic times.”
